Went to 12 o'clock Mass.
Dick came for me. We dined at Reading --- excellent dinner - roast beef - beans - baked potatoes and a very tasty pie - seemed like mince with icecream.
It was supposed to be a failure because the ice cream melted. It was something like a baked alaska that didn't come out. But the taste was superb.

It was the most unusual session of tension. Mary was very tense. Many remarks, apparently planted toward stepson but no remark was directed to him. He looked wretched - poor color - dull eyes.

I was acutely uncomfortable

Last Day for employers to file quarterly Social Security Tax Return and Wage Report, covering three previous calendar months.

A very weary day - TIRED TIRED TIRED!

No word from anyone except Margaret J Dziadosz.

January was a victim of mistaken identity.

The month was prejudged before the facts were in. It was alleged to have been an accomplice of December and was linked to the weather crimes of that month.

Boston's December, it may be remembered, was the coldest since 1917. The mean temperature was 6.4 degrees below normal. Below-freezing readings for 12 consecutive days equalled a record.

The general thinking was that if the first Winter month could be that bad, then January, which usually is much worse, would be a terror.

Strangely enough, that opinion prevailed throughout most of January, despite the increasing evidence that it was innocent of December's misdeeds.

Now that January is over and all the facts have been submitted, it has become clear that the first month of 1959 was badly maligned.

January's mean temperature normally averages four degrees colder than December's. This year the trend was reversed—January was two degrees warmer than December.

This does not mean that January was balmy. With a mean temperature of 28.8 degrees, it was still chiller than normal, but only by three-tenths of a degree.

It is interesting to note that during the first two months of Winter, the lowest temperature was 2 degrees (Jan. 5). Not once did it go below zero in either December or January.

Another example of January's good behavior was the lack of snowfall. The ground was bare most of the month. Total snow was only 4.1 inches and the greatest depth on the ground at any time was just two inches.

That is far from a record. Boston has had 14 other Januarys with less than 4.1 inches. January four years ago had only 0.9 inch.

In the snowfall category, December, too, was circumspect with only 4.6 inches.

The Winter total to date is a mere 8.7 inches, the equivalent of the amount that falls in one good snowstorm.

The northeast storms for which New England is famous have been totally absent owing to the strong west to east upper air circulation that has prevented storminess from riding up the eastern coastline.

Most of January's precipitation occurred as rain during the milder weather (the temperature went as high as 62

Hurt me a lot.

The worst snowstorm of this Winter dropped 5.1 inches on this city, the only disturbance that even approached the northeast coastal storms for which New England is famous.

That started in the early afternoon of Feb. 23, trapping holiday traffic at its peak.

Even though February had more snow than any other month, the total was only 10.7 inches, which is 1.7 inches less than normal. Boston streets were free of snow during the first and third weeks.

One feature of February's weather was the unusual depth of frost in the ground reported from other sections of New England. A few suburban areas to the west of this city said frost penetrated to as deep as five feet.

Answer came from Kennedy. Mar. 17.
"Thank you for your letter and your comments upon the "seven-point immigration bill" Actually there were ten proposals, but only seven were included in the press release because there were discussions with members of the House Committee and a semblance of agreement on only these seven points.

I fully agree with your comment on the proposal to replace the present national origins system of quotas with a formula based on blood relationships. However, my proposal was not limited to that. I also said at the press conference – but this was overlooked in many of the reports – that at least the same number of non-relatives should be admitted as are presently admitted. However, I would like to eliminate national origins quotas in both categories

No bill has yet been introduced by me incorporating these proposals. I do plan to introduce the bill extending the law permitting orphans who are adopted to be admitted on a non-quota basis in a few days. I will be glad to send you the release

THE DEATH OF KING ARTHUR

Then loudly cried the bold Sir Bedivere.

"Ah! my Lord Arthur, whither shall I go?
Where shall I hide my forehead and my eyes?
For now I see the true old times are dead,
When every morning brought a noble chance,
And every chance brought out a noble knight.
Such times have been not since the light that led
The old Elders with the gift of myrrh.
But now the whole Round Table is dissolved
Which was an image of the mighty world;
And I, the last, go forth companionless,
And the days darken round me, and the years,
Among new men, strange faces, other minds."

And slowly answered Arthur from the barge

"The old order changeth, yielding place to new,
And God fulfills Himself in many ways,
Lest one good custom should corrupt the world.
Comfort thyself: what comfort is in me?
I have lived my life, and that which I have done
May He within Himself make pure! but thou,
If thou shouldst never see my face again,
Pray for my soul. More things are wrought by prayer
Than this world dreams of. . . .
For what are men better than sheep or goats
That nourish a blind life within the brain,
If, knowing God, they lift not hands of prayer
Both for themselves and those who call them friend?
For so the whole round earth is every way
Bound by gold chains about the feet of God."

By Alfred Tennyson.

Copy of Maranda Prentis' letter 4-15-59

"Your letter of February 12th mentioned the assurance you had been given regarding the Conference's allotment from the Greater Lawrence Community Fund. Now we want to report that we have received a check for only $70.56 thru The Mass. Comm. Organization Service, which was the channel when the Package Plan was in force. However, the Package Plan was abandoned, by vote of all concerned, in the spring of 1958. Which was why the Treasurer of the Conference, for the first time, made the appeal directly to the Church for the 1959 allotment. Checks, therefore, proved be received directly.

In 1958, the Conference received $203.49 from Lawrence and asked, for 1959, the same quota of $203.60.

It is difficult for us to understand why the Conference's allocation from Lawrence dropped from 1958 allotment of $203.49 to $70.56. We would be interested in any clarification of this which you might give the Conference Finance Committee and The Board.

Of course we hope that next year we may receive again the full quota.

I hope you are quite recovered from your late physical problems. Well for you.

Sincerely — Maranda E Prentis

The Bespoken Mile - March Cost
Very engrossing book.

Few have the faith, the will for the bespoken mile, —
The mile beyond the grave. At the Grave the Church is still discursive. Ahead the shadows lies upon us. There is the whistle of the wind across the wastes, The pressure of the void - for pain is that heightened perception, that increased awareness, that trembling advance into another sphere where changed relation spells agony — yet only for the old attitude Earth needs heaven, and heaven needs earth for this very reason that the second mile on earth is the first of heaven. Until this is discovered it remains the valley of the shadow.
Thereafter, separation means no more than the pause in music whereby the theme is freed.

WATERWAY FUNDS FOR STATE SOUGHT

Port Authority Asks Rise to $8,450,000 in Federal Harbor and Canal Work

WASHINGTON, April 27 (AP)—The Port of New York Authority asked Congress today for $8,450,000, almost $3,000,000, more than was budgeted by President Eisenhower, for twelve harbor and canal improvement projects.

Two other requests put the funds sought today at $8,513,000.

The request by the Port Authority would cover work in an area ranging from New York harbor to the Canadian border. The other requests were $13,000 for a survey of Little Neck Bay on Long Island Sound and $50,000 for a survey of a proposed canal across Sandy Hook, N. J. Neither of these two proj-

THROUGH CHANGELESS CHANGE

I know I cannot hold this lovely day
Nor pin the hour so briefly fluttering,
I cannot stop the calendar at spring
Nor linger always in the month of May.
But there is compensation in this way
Of change: if bluebirds suddenly take wing,
Grief also is a transitory thing
And dark has but a single night to stay.

I would not fix forever any song
For all our singing is uncertain now,
So few and faint the tones within our range;
The perfect harmony for which we long,
The round fulfillment on the golden bough,
Lie onward through the changeless law of change.

GOD, THE ARTIST

Angela Morgan.

God, when you thought of a pine tree,
How did you think of a star?
How did you dream of a damson West
Crossed by an inky bar?
How did you think of a clear brown pool
Where flocks of shadows are?

God, when you thought of a cob-web,
How did you think of dew?
How did you know a spider's house
Had shingles, bright and new?
How did you know we human folk
Would love them as we do?

God, when you patterned a bird song,
Flung on a silver string,
How did you know the ecstasy
That crystal call would bring?
How did you think of a bubbling throat
And a darling speckled wing?

God, when you chiseled a rain-drop,
How did you think of a stem
Bearing a lively satin leaf
To hold the tiny gem?
How did you know a million drops
Would deck the morning's hem?

Why did you mate the moonlit night
With the honeysuckle vines?
How did you know Madeira bloom
Distilled ecstatic wines?
How did you weave the velvet dusk
Where tangled perfumes are?
God, when you thought of a pine tree,
How did you think of a star?

August 17. Dear Editor Pearson -

See what you mean about the Russian invasion. Today Miss Scott and Mr Fahey who are to assist the Publicity, met with Miss Hiatt, Prog. chairman and me to discuss forming and strategy. They plan to visit the Boston papers and find out what angles about the program they might be interested in. They think The Refugee Year should be an interest and will by selves
This. They plan to do that next week.
They are to let us know the angle. They suggested and we go on to prepare copy from there. So much for Living
Lis to content I would think that
The topic could be related to Social Work's interest in problems of all people all over the world. There is an International Conference of Social Work. There is a national and we have a state conference to be held Nov 3-4-5 etc.
It is most appropriate that there be a session on World Refugee Year. The

what it is and what will be discussed at the session
In good copy - maybe you start with Refuge in Year 'and and with Conference your idea.

I think you have more skill than any one jus' and that kind of know how

It seemed to me that the Refuge Year would have a real human appeal as a springboard but sometimes people need it spelled out. Why Second Nature included! and why a Conference meeting now.

Love to help

"Underlying the essence of medicine is the concept of the dignity of the human being. The word dignity has several connotations, but its primary meaning as derived from the Latin word dignitas is intrinsic worth or state of being worthy. And when we put the adjective human before the word dignity, we mean the intrinsic worthiness of man, the human being."

And 7th Driest, Too

September in Boston 3d Warmest in History

By SUMNER BARTON

Hurricane Gracie grabbed the headlines but, as far as Boston itself was concerned, the big weather news of September was the abnormal warmth and dryness.

Consider this:

Last month was the third warmest September in 89 years of official record.

The average temperature of 68.2 degrees, 3.9 degrees above normal, was the highest since 1930.

Two new daily temperature records were set, one of them yesterday.

Rainfall of only 0.63 inch was 2.36 inches below normal, making September the seventh driest of record.

Measurable precipitation fell on six days and of these only two had as much as a quarter inch.

Although most water tables are still at satisfactory levels as a result of the rains of previous months, woodlands are dangerously dry and susceptible to fire.

Yesterday the temperature climbed to 85 degrees, breaking the old record of 83 degrees set in 1927.

On Sept. 24 a reading of 95 degrees established another new record.

The month was not consistently hot, however. A cold spell set in for one week during the middle of September and the home fires had to be lighted suddenly.

Two minimum temperatures of 45 degrees on the 16th and 17th tied previous records.

Warmth returned quickly after that and the temperature went into the 80's and 90's on six of the last 10 days of the month.

It is interesting to note that temperatures have reached 90 degrees or higher 22 times this year, significant testimony to the warmth of Summer and Fall since the figure is just twice the normal number of 90 degree days.

Here are a few other September sidebars:

Despite the warmth, there were no thunderstorms. Usually two can be expected in September.

The month was exceptionally sunny, with Boston getting 74 percent of the amount of sunshine possible. Normal is 62 percent.

There were no high winds. The strongest was a 27 mile an hour gust on the 11th.

Anyone fortunate enough to take September as a vacation month had ideal weather.

Hot All Over

LONDON, Sept. 30 (Reuters) — The dry, hot Summer from May through September over all England and Wales broke records going back at least 200 years, it was announced tonight.

Health resorts along the south coast of England, and in Wales and the Channel Islands, had more than 25 percent more sun than the a v e r a g e—the equivalent of a month's extra sunshine between June and September.

Beauty and Love

FRANCES X. KELLY JR., Westbury, N. Y., writes: "The quotation that interests M. H. (Jan. 4) comprises the last three lines of a sonnet 'Now Blue October' by Robert Nathan, and may be found in his volume 'The Green Leaf' (Knopf, 1950)." The sonnet follows:

Now blue October, smoky in the sun,
Must end the long sweet summer of the heart.
The last brief visit of the birds is done;
They sing the autumn songs before they part.
Listen, how lovely—there's the thrush we heard
When June was small with roses, and the bending
Blossom of branches covered nest and bird,
Singing the summer in, summer unending.
Give me your hand once more before the night;
See how the meadows darken with the frost,
How fades the green that was the summer's light.
Beauty is only altered, never lost,
And love, before the cold November rain,
Will make its summer in the heart again.

IN FINITE CLAY

Toughen yourself, my heart, and beat the time
Of life to your appointed end. Few others,
Your shadow whispers, will toll a requiem
When you are stilled, and only random brothers,
By law of life, can lock beats with your own.
You love so finitely that every day
The flesh of love dies first, and then the bone.
You are a stage of warmth in finite clay.

Toughen yourself against your brother mind,
And wash away the dreams that haunt his sleep.
Be stern with him, for he is of your kind.
Match salt with salt when he leans down to weep,
And toughening him to solitude of thought,
Rejoice at finite lessons you have taught.

3¢ A THE BOSTON HERALD, FRIDAY, OCT. 30, 1959

Ethnic Groups in State To Join in 'Culturama'

A "culturama" will be launched by Gov. Furcolo at special meetings tonight and Sunday afternoon in Worcester.

Representatives of many ethnic groups have been invited to participate.

The program is aimed at emphasizing the contributions in America and more particularly in Massachusetts of the immigrants from the old countries.

The governor, who coined the name for the program, will preside at both sessions. He will be assisted by George A. Wells of the Commerce Department.

The Friday meeting will be in the Gardner Auditorium at the State House and the Sunday affair will be at Hotel Bancroft in Worcester.

Handling the invitations and the agenda is Leonard Kelly of the governor's staff.

Details of the program have not yet been worked out.

However, it is ultimately anticipated that it will be developed privately—possibly through creation of a special foundation.

Switch In Weather

The weather conditions Sunday and Monday were a far cry from the record-breaking high temperature of 70 recorded here by the Essex company Saturday for a Nov. 14. The previous high for that date was 68 in 1902 and the all-time low was 12 in 1905.

Southerly winds were responsible for Saturday's balmy conditions and they also produced .56 of an inch of rain here that day and .06 of an inch of rain early Sunday morning.

The northeasterly winds Sunday and Monday produced more seasonal temperatures. In fact it was on the cold, damp, raw side. Temperature readings in the low 30s were recorded in some of the outlying sections early Monday morning.

The cold air moved into this area early Sunday morning on the heels of a shower and a change in the wind direction.

Saturday's temperature readings at the Lawrence police station ranged from a low of 52 at 3 a.m. to a high of 71 at 6 p.m.

The highest temperature ever recorded in Lawrence by the Essex company on this date, Nov. 16, was 71 in 1927 and the all-time low was 8 in 1933. The Nov. 15 high was 72 in 1956 and the low, 11 in 1905.

Rain is possible tonight and Tuesday, according to the weather man. He adds that it will not be so cold, Tuesday.

Monday's temperature readings at the police station here follow: Midnight, 37; 3 a.m., 35; 6 a.m., 35; 9 a.m., 36; noon 39.

Sunday's readings there were: Midnight, 62; 3 a.m., 50; 6 a.m., 44; 9 a.m., 44; noon, 45; 3 p.m., 43; 6 p.m., 41; 9 p.m., 38.

Furcolos to Dine At Algonquin Club Thanksgiving Day

It will be Thanksgiving dinner out for Gov. Furcolo and his family today.

The governor, Mrs. Furcolo and their five children are expected for dinner at the Algonquin Club at 2 p.m. and cranberries will definitely be included on their menu.

Tomorrow at 8:30 a. m. the Furcolos are scheduled to enplane for Nassau, where they will stay for about two weeks. Mrs. Furcolo is recuperating from a recent abdominal operation and her physician ordered the vacation in a warm climate. The governor plans to work on his annual message to be delivered to the Legislature Jan. 6.

PRE-CHRISTMAS FAST SET DEC. 23 BY POPE

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John XXIII has authorized that observance of the Roman Catholic Christmas fast day be changed hereafter from Dec. 24 to Dec. 23.

The Sacred Congregation of the Council, in announcing the new decree Friday, said:

"At the request of many bishops from many countries, His Holiness Pope John XXIII, by the present decree . . . has decided to advance the obligations for fast and abstinence from the day Dec. 24, eve of the birth of Jesus Christ, to Dec. 23."

Vatican sources said the Pope made the change because many Catholics have found the fast difficult to observe on Dec. 24 because on that day so many are traveling to join their families for Christmas.
